Authentic Iranian Experiences Await You:

Crafting Memories: Woodworking at Roohe Choub in the Heart of Shiraz

Welcome to “Roohe Choub” (Wooden Spirit), I’m Mohammad Soltani, and I’d like to introduce you to our workshop nestled in the heart of the historical fabric of Shiraz. Our workshop has always been a sanctuary, providing respite from the daily grind. The cozy and tranquil environment here is a result of the continuous efforts of Master Kazem Qarekhaniyan and his unique approach to art. We would love to share the sense of well-being we experience in this space with you. We want you to smell, touch, and create with wood.

In this experience, we’ll head to the “Roohe Choub” workshop, where we’ll spend a few hours crafting a small wooden item together, such as a coaster, spoon, necklace, or sculpture. The story begins as you navigate through the historic alleyways of Shiraz, eventually arriving at the splendid Saraye Moshir Bazaar. As you wander among various chambers, shops, and charming teahouses, you’ll find your way to our workshop. The aroma of wood and the pleasant ambiance are palpable even from a distance.

Nomadic Life Unveiled: Explore Kavar

In this adventure, we embark on a journey from Shiraz to the hinterlands behind Shah Bahrami and the nomadic regions. Along the way, we pass by the nomadic tents that still move seasonally to sustain their way of life. To get a closer look at these nomads, we make a stop in the Sepidar Valley and become guests in the home of a Qashqai nomadic family. This Qashqai family will introduce us to their rich cultural heritage, including arts such as black tent weaving, derma, chenar, gilim, and gomme. Together with them, we will engage in activities such as gathering firewood, dairy production, animal husbandry, and cooking. After a hearty lunch, we head to the Sepidar Valley to harvest medicinal herbs and brew herbal tea, all while surrounded by the stunning beauty of the Zagros Mountain range.

Ghalamkari Unveiled: A Journey into Persian Artistry

Ghalamkari is one of the traditional arts of Isfahan, an art form that, like many other handicrafts, is at risk of fading into obscurity. For years, beautifully decorated calligraphic tablecloths were an integral part of our memories, with the taste of authentic Iranian flavors. Fabrics adorned with this art form were present in various corners of our lives. In this experience, we invite you to join us in visiting one of the best and most amiable Ghalamkari masters, Mr. Abad. Together, we will spend a few hours in his workshop.

We will begin our journey from the Hozek residence. We'll engage in a conversation about Ghalamkari and then head to Mr. Abad's workshop with small fabric bags that we will provide you. In the workshop, we will become acquainted with various Ghalamkari templates and styles. You will learn the process of making ink and then apply Ghalamkari to the fabric we've provided or on your own clothing. This artistry will serve as a lasting memento for you to cherish.

Culinary Tour in A Nice Garden House

You can enjoy a culinary tour by omitting one or two sightseeing places as mentioned above to buy time for this plan: As we are from Shiraz, we can hold a culinary tour free of charge for people who are interested in culinary. On this day, my friend and I will be your host in a traditional home for a culinary tour. On this day, we will go shopping together and buy the ingredients. Then we start cooking together and spend some time at home with my family and my friends. We will cook Kalam Polo, it is a traditional Shiraz food that includes mixed rice, cabbage, some herbs with meatballs. For dessert, you will eat Flooded Shirazi which is made of noodles, this kind of dessert usually eaten with lemon juice or rose water. As the Iranian people like Indian food a lot so if you would like, you could teach us Local food from your country, what is your idea about it?

Overnight in Shiraz.

Zurkhaneh

In Yazd, spice up your Iran Tour with a visit to one of the descendants of the world's first gyms: a Zourkhaneh (also spelled as Zourkhaneh and Zourkhaneh)! Dating back to over 3000 years ago in ancient Persia, these athletic centers connect you to the spirit of Iranian patriotism, heroism, and mysticism. The ancient Iranian sport club and its heroic rituals, Pahlavi (intangible UNESCO heritage as the longest-running form of heroic training), beautifully represent different aspects of Persian culture. On a Zourkhaneh Tour in Iran, you'll discover the enchanting way Iranians have been training noble warriors of physical and spiritual strength, as you get enchanted by the rhythm of Persian drum and the chants of Persian epic, legend, and spirituality.

Hope To see you in 'Lovely, Friendly TRAN...
